

LOCAL SERVICE IS DENIED BUSES OF LARRISSEY LINE

Request is Dismissed "For Lack of Necessity," It is Stated

DECISION BY P. U. C.

Since Making Application, Line Was Taken Over By Delaware River Coach Co.

By International News Service
PHILADELPHIA, June 24—Mrs. Anne M. Larrisey, Bristol widow and operator of the Larrisey bus line, was refused her application today to run local service in addition to her interstate operations.

The Public Utility Commission in Harrisburg notified Abraham Nathanson for the Neibauer Bus Co., which had protested the application, that Mrs. Larrisey's request had been dismissed "for lack of necessity."

Mrs. Larrisey, who lives with her five children at 1107 Radcliffe street, sought approval to operate a bus line over a route beginning at the Pennsylvania side of the Burlington-Bristol bridge, running to the Pennsylvania end of the lower bridge in Morrisville, through Bristol and Tullytown.

During several days of hearings, Mrs. Larrisey's attorneys presented scores of witnesses who testified that additional local pickup service was necessary. Residents of Tullytown and the Maple Beach areas were predominant.

However, Nathanson in many heated exchanges with the local residents during the hearings, maintained that Neibauer service was ample to meet their demands, a contention which was upheld in the Commission's ruling.

The Commission order was signed by B. F. Morgal, acting chairman. Text of the order—

"This matter being before the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission upon the application of Anne M. Larrisey, dated Dec. 21, 1950, to operate motor vehicles as a common carrier and upon protest, and having been duly heard and submitted by the parties, and full investigation of the matter and things involving having been heard, the Commission finds and determines—

THE PURPOSE OF THE CONVENTION

With only a matter of days remaining until the Republican convention starts balloting on the party's nominee for President, it is not time to sit back for a moment and review the reasons why this convention is being held?

Dictatorships and despotisms don't need political conventions.

They are a special function of the Republican form of government—"Democracy in action," as we like to say. They are the means by which popular sovereignty expresses itself. "The will of the people is the law of the land," and the conventions help spell it out in words of one syllable. Self-government as we know it—and we know the one form which has demonstrated itself practical and durable—would disappear without the two party system of politics of which the national convention has come to be an essential feature.

Anyone who brushes the whole subject aside with a disdainful air and intimates that politics is distasteful to him is very short-sighted indeed. It is no real credit to General Eisenhower that from time to time he has spoken almost contemptuously of certain problems as being merely political, and referred them to subordinates for answer.

Politics is the most important single function to be discovered in the length and breadth of any free, self-governing republic, and no citizen has a right to be disdainful about it. Certainly no man aspiring to high public office under the American Constitution should say anything to belittle the processes by which the people select their administrators and review their policies, nor treat these matters as being separate and inferior responsibilities which can be properly entrusted to subordinates.

Quite the contrary. Politics, says the dictionary, "is the art and science of government." It is the lifeblood of popular sovereignty and freedom.

Everyone knows, of course, that the purpose of a convention is to select the party's candidate. But the selection goes far deeper.

It is not merely a matter of finding the man who would be most popular. All demagogues are popular, at least temporarily. All dictators of the recent period passed through the stage of immense popularity.

Nor is popularity at the time of the nomination any assurance of party success in November. The late Jimmy Walker, once the playboy mayor of New York City, once wrote a song entitled "Will You Love Me In December As You Say You Do In May." In politics the question of whether the voters will love some transient favorite in the November elections as they appear to love him during the June or July preliminaries, is one of those heart-breaking matters out of which much political tragedy has been written.

Nor is it merely a matter of finding the ablest chief executive. Technical skill with public matters is urgently important, but it is not everything. There have been, for instance, some exceedingly efficient dictators, who led their subjects to slavery and their countries to ruin. Besides, the nominee must get elected before he can take office.

It is not, however, just a question of finding a campaigner. America has seen some able, convincing campaigners, from Aaron Burr down through William Jennings Bryan and Huey Long, to whom it would have been a catastrophe to entrust the government.

What is needed is a combination of the various factors of campaigning ability, administrative ability and factual knowledge about both politics and government.

But there is still another broad side of the question, and that is the philosophy, objectives and points of view of the available candidates.

Do these coincide with the concepts of the political party which is asked to nominate them? Are they in line with the trend of public thinking of the American people?

In the case of the Republican convention, this calls for a critical analysis along lines which are not always seen alike. Nevertheless, milestones and yardsticks are available. The Republican Party was founded out of the demoralization produced by slavery, was dedicated to the preservation of the union and the proposition of all men being equal before the law, and has been more successful than any other political party in all the history of the world in developing and encouraging a system of economics which has enriched and expanded the American nation beyond all the dreams of man's imagination.

Let no man discount the past and the traditions of the Republican Party. When the last "I" is dotted on the pages of history, the record the party wrote from 1860 to the Mid-Twenties will shine out as the most miraculously successful political chronicle ever told. The Republican Party set free the slaves, opened up

TELLS OF GROWTH OF WOMEN VOTERS' LEAGUE

Mrs. Franco-Ferriera Makes Report to Newtown Group On National Convention

PICNIC SESSION

NEWTOWN, June 24—Mrs. Franco-Ferriera, Buckingham, secretary of New Hope-Solebury League of Women Voters, and a delegate to the national convention of the Leagues of Women Voters recently held in Cincinnati, O., was guest speaker at the meeting of Newtown league, Tuesday. This was a picnic luncheon meeting held at Silver Lake farm, home of Mrs. James Frank.

Mrs. Franco-Ferriera said the League has grown nationally since 1950; there are now 824 leagues in the United States. Since the leagues are growing so rapidly in number, serious consideration should be given to the revision of the present by-laws of the National League. Thirty-five new leagues were formed in April, 1952, an increase of 14% in membership.

She mentioned that the voters' service has made sensational strides and properly so, since this is the core of all league work.

At the business meeting presided over by Mrs. Robert Biddle, 3d, president, Newtown League, went on record as approving fluoridation of Newtown water supply.

Mrs. Robert Titlow gave a report on the public health meeting held in Doylestown, which she and Mrs. Robert Hoffman attended.

The first fall meeting will be September 15th, when Mrs. Robert Biddle will entertain at a tea at her home, Fieldstone Farm.

REMOVED TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Charlotte Ball, 915 Washington avenue, Croydon, was removed to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, yesterday morning in an ambulance of Bucks County Rescue Squad.

The State Police Say:

Are you taking any long night-driving trips this summer? If you are you'd better slow down and perk up after dark. The dusk-to-dawn hours have one-third of the traffic, TWO-THIRDS of the fatal accidents. And driver-asleep accidents are especially likely to be fatal. Don't tempt death by driving after you begin to get groggy.

PLANNING CORRELATION OF VITAL IMPORTANCE

For Morrisville, Lr. Makefield Twp. and Yardley, Says R. J. Bailey

DISCUSS PROBLEMS

MORRISVILLE, June 24—The importance of correlation of planning for Morrisville and Yardley boroughs, and Lower Makefield township is being stressed.

The Yardley Planning Commission, led by F. W. Lantz, and the Lower Makefield Survey Committee on Government Affairs, with Claude L. Johnson as chairman, held a recent session. At that meeting in Pennsbury high school, the group discussed mutual problems, and explored possibility of a joint planning group. Robert J. Bailey is chairman of the Morrisville Planning Commission.

It is expected that additional meetings will take place in the near future, when members of Yardley and Morrisville Common Councils and the Lower Makefield board of supervisors also will attend.

"Careful analysis of such mutual problems as zoning along common borders, road and traffic development are a few of the studies and spheres of thinking to be explored by the groups," Bailey said. "Recommendations by local groups such

Indelicato Under Bail For Alleged Stabbing

Frank Indelicato was held in $2,000 bail, last evening, as the result of an alleged stabbing affair which took place Saturday afternoon, June 7th. Indelicato is accused of stabbing his divorced wife, Mrs. Ion Tresco, 35, and her present husband in their apartment at 329 Lincoln avenue.

The hearing was held before Justice of Peace Anthony Niccol, with John L. Kilcoyne, Esq., representing Indelicato.

Mrs. Tresco and her husband related details of the affair and Tresco exhibited a long scar across his ribs which he said was made by Indelicato with a knife. Mrs. Tresco said she was stabbed in the abdomen and was hospitalized for a week.

The argument preceding the stabbing, according to the testimony, grew out of an argument over support for the two children of Indelicato now living with their mother and step-father.

SOIL LABORATORY IS INCLUDED IN A TRIP

Field Day Much Enjoyed By Bucks County Natural Science Ass'n

VISIT MICHENER HOME

NEWTOWN, June 24—June twenty-first will long be remembered by the 27 people who took part in the field day planned by Bucks Co. Natural Science Association and led by Stevenson W. Fletcher, Jr.

The first stop was made at the laboratory of Edwin Harrington, Carversville, who for some five years has been analyzing specimens of soil sent him from many far away sections as well as from gardens and farmlands in Bucks.

At present he is working on soils from Hawaii and Alaska. Aided by his assistant, Miss Marie Becker, he demonstrated for the group some of the processes through which a soil specimen must go—laboratory temperature, accurate timing, very slow oven drying along with much complicated apparatus are parts of the picture. Senders of soil should be careful as to the depth from which the sample is sent. Eight inches is set for flower garden specimen. Mr. Harrington said if he were able to give but a very few warnings these would be headed by "do not mix again for five years," "do not put on any more aluminum"

FAIRLESS HILLS, June 24—Thirty operating engineers arrived at the building project here this morning, before the pickets did, and commenced work. Due to the wet condition of the ground and the fact that work assignments are not yet organized, all thirty of the engineers were not actively engaged.

An official of the Danherst Corporation stated that if the grading pans and bulldozers that were working this morning would continue to work, then many of the 1,000 laborers, carpenters, plumbers and electricians that have been out of work as a result of the strike, will soon be re-hired.

RUMPLE FAMILY GETS KEYS TO HOUSE

First Family from This Area To Take Levittown Title

HAPPY AT OCCASION

LEVITTOWN, June 24—Katherine and Harold Rumble, Edgely residents until yesterday, experienced one of the most important days of their married life as they became the first people from the Bristol area to move into Levittown yesterday.

"Red" Rumble, 36, originally came from Lewistown; his wife, "Kay", 27, is the former Katherine Noble, whose parents now live in Croydon. Married for six years, "Red" is employed as a draftsman with the Bristol Engineering Corp., which contracts men to local industry. For a two-week period about two years ago "Red" was sent on contract to work with Rohm & Haas, and he has been there ever since. He is actively interested in photography as a hobby and has an excellent collection of photographs of scenes and people.

Scheduled to take title at 10:15 yesterday morning at the J. Halperin & Co., Wilson avenue and Green Lane, the Rumbles waited half an hour before they were called into the desk of Vincent Gianquinto, assistant vice president of the Bristol office of the Community Funding Corp. of Pa., the organization which is financing the project.

During the business session a district resolution was unanimously adopted and ordered dispatched to Washington, asking that returning Korean war veterans be employed in private industry engaged in government contract work.

Announcement was made that the Eighth District now has 20 posts.

Other district officers installed included the following: Senior vice-commander, Warren B. Watson, Doylestown; junior vice-commander, Edward Conroy, Allentown; quartermaster, Kenneth Moyer, Macungie; judge advocate, William L. Hodman, Doylestown; surgeon, J. Howard Black, Doylestown; chaplain, Maurice G. Wildman, Bristol; trustees, Lawrence Newell, Allentown, John Harton, Doylestown, and William Beltz, Emmaus.

Retired School Teacher Killed Under Own Car

MT. HOLLY, June 24—Instantly crushed to death under her overturned car, Mrs. Ethel R. Ayars, 66, retired school teacher of Fairton, was the victim of a two-car crash yesterday afternoon. The crash occurred at Pine street and Route 38. The victim's car collided with an auto operated by Mrs. Elsie O'Rourke, 38.

Two passengers in Mrs. Ayars' vehicle were removed to Burlington County Hospital. Mrs. Carrie S. Schmitzer, 60, principal of Fairton elementary school, suffered a fractured pelvic bone and cuts. Her condition was fair.

Miss Minnie Bradway, 40, a teacher at Bridgeton junior high school, was treated for shock and possible internal injuries, fractured ribs and lacerations. Hospital authorities listed her condition as serious.

Mrs. Schmitzer and Miss Bradway both were hurried free from the car when it turned over. Both vehicles were demolished.

ASK ZONING BOARD TO RECLASSIFY AREA

Petition To Set Up Golf Driving Range in Lower Makefield Twp.

GIVE UP PROJECT

The operators of a dairy farm at Sutphin road, near the Yardley-Morrisville road, in Lower Makefield township, William and John Perestam, appeared before the township's Board of Adjustment in the Community House at Woodside, last evening, to ask that their 80-acre farm be re-classified from first class residential to a business district.

They told the board members—Harry S. Hoffman, Sr., Russell F. Carter and Augustus S. Leedom—they planned to set up a golf-driving range, a miniature golf course, tennis courts and other amusements if their application was approved.

More than 100 neighbors attended the hearing. They had not organized formally to block the Perestam brothers' project but virtually all objected to it vigorously.

Their principal objections were the proposed amusement center would serve as an "entering wedge" for other business enterprises in the farm community; that it would create a traffic hazard, and would attract an "unwelcome element" to the area.

The brothers, obviously surprised by the overwhelming opposition, voluntarily withdrew their application for the zoning change.

FASTEST VESSEL AFOAT

During World War II it was customary to load a division of troops aboard the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth and send them off on their own. Those British grey hounds were so fast no naval escort could match their sustained speed for any length of time. No submarines the Germans or Japanese could send out ever got close enough for a torpedo shot at them. There was nothing remotely like them on this side of the water.

The new superliner "United States" was built at a cost of $70,000,000 to put this country back in the running. Running is hardly the word for it. In trial runs she attained speeds over a period of several hours that were "considerably" in excess of 34 knots, or 39.1 miles an hour. This exceeds the known speed of any merchant or large naval craft.

Tonnage-wise the "United States" is not over half the size of the monumental "Queens" but she is the same length. No wood was used in her construction and everything is fireproof down to the table napkins. Passengers making the maiden voyage to England July 3 will find a type of luxury formerly found only on foreign flag vessels.

EASING OF HOME CREDIT

Modification of Regulation X, governing down payments on new home purchases, was foreshadowed last month with suspension of restrictions on consumer installment credit. Official explanations lacking, both actions may only be construed as reflecting the Federal Reserve Board's conviction that inflationary pressures present no immediate danger.

Easing of down payments follows a falling off in demand for new homes in some parts of the country. Shortage of mortgage money is given as one cause, but it is also a fact that since demands for relaxation of down payments began to be stepped up some months ago, many prospective buyers have been holding back on commitments in anticipation of a favorable change.

What effect the revision will have in stimulating purchasing, if that was the purpose, is problematical. The stimulation may be expected to be greatest in housing costing from $5,000 to $9,000. Within that range down-payment reductions are largest.

On a $7,000 home, for instance, the minimum down payment is cut from $700 to $350 for nonveterans, with no down payment for veterans as against $280 under the old regulations. But on $10,000 and $12,000 houses the reduction in minimum down payment is only $50.

It is because of the continued high minimum down payments required on higher priced homes that lumber dealers and home builders, through their national associations, profess disappointment. They say the new regulations will have no "helpful effect" on the housing market.

Soil Laboratory Is Included in A Trip

sulphate" and "do not think humus alone will get needed results. Mr. Harrington recommended annual ryegrass for new homes where soil is poor. He thought cotton seed meal excellent for the heath family. He thinks the Merion Cricket Club Blue Grass strain is outstanding but still very expensive. He showed the white powder called Krillium, which is now extensively advertised as a soil conditioner. As yet he has not tried it, but means to do so. He advised the more wide use of vermiculture and felt the many weed killers should be very carefully handled.

His laboratory library was full of bulletins, which covered botany courses for many regions. Vines and plants of interest adorned the workshop, making the place a thing of beauty as well as an experimental station.

The group next journeyed to Tinticum township, where Mr. Fletcher had arranged with James A. Michener to have a stop at his 30-acre estate, where he has some 3,000 young trees growing, most of them planted since he was the owner of the property. He has set out many Colorado blue spruce but generally he has kept to native trees of that section. To the dogwoods and red cedars, which were growing there at purchase time, he has added hemlocks, firs, spruces, pines and holies. He has made trails through the various plantings, which the nature lovers found most easy to travel. The site was extremely high and the view most extensive.

There was no time to discuss Mr. Michener's books on the South Pacific and his recent visit made to the Orient—for this day the love of trees was uppermost.

After box lunch eaten at this Tinticum retreat, the motorcade continued on Dark Hollow road to the River road. For many, this was the first trip over this Dark Hollow section and the beauty of it could well compare with the better known Cutalessa. Finally the third stopping place was reached—again in the Carversville area—the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. M. Gantz, called "Pepperbush Farm." There a remarkable private museum was visited. Shells, butterflies, birds' eggs, minerals and fossils—hundreds of them were labelled in fine display cases. Mrs. Gantz said over some years she had collected about half of the shells in Florida and in Maine. Some relations had secured for her shells from all parts of the world. The bird egg collection she had bought from Spread Eagle Tavern. It was most beautifully arranged.

Mrs. Gantz's very special interest was in fossils. She has set up most interesting cases, which exhibit specimen covering carboniferous, mesozoic, cenozoic eras, etc. The very dawn of civilization was pictured. Mrs. Gantz has fossils from New York, Tennessee, Florida, Colorado, Canada and Jamaica, as well as from Pennsylvania. It was especially interesting to learn that in the Carversville area she had found not only Indian hammers and grinding stones but fossils showing trees not native here now—a yew, a ginkgo, and a Norfolk pine (arcanites) being among the number. A case showing coral forms and many deep sea beautiful animal and plant types was admired. The group was loathe to leave this field for study where many hours could well have been spent.

The July and August meetings of the Association will be held at Newtown Friends Meeting House. The next field trip will be in September and is planned for the hemlock arboretum and the Morris Arboretum.

The membership of the association comes mainly from the Newtown area—so it was very helpful to get a new member on Saturday, Miss Helen C. Roberts, of Danboro, and to find the interest in nature study as shown by Mrs. Gantz and Mr. Harrington, who are among the more recent members of the group from north central Bucks county.

30 Engineers On Fairless Hills Job; Pickets Are Late

portedly operating engineers at the U. S. Steel plant who work on the night shift, milled around the road.

Last night in Phila, the International Union of Operating Engineers (AFL) voted to continue their strike until the contractors' association "agreed to and signed" the union's demands.

Earlier, leaders of the back-to-work movement said the inclement weather yesterday had delayed any decisive test of the proposal.

The first half-hour of the packed meeting, conducted by Roy J. Underwood, president and business manager of the IUOE locals—542, 542-A and 542-B—was taken up by leaders and delegates of many waterfront unions affiliated with the Maritime Trade Department, representing 35,000 members, pledging 100 percent support to the Operating Engineers' strike.

One man later introduced as a member who obtained his union card in 1951, voiced objection to Underwood's leadership. He was offered the use of the microphone but was unable to be heard over the loud shouting and booing. He finally asked to be given safe escort from the hall, closely watched by detectives and uniformed police.

A motion then was carried to bring him before the executive committee of the union, which in turn would ask him to surrender his card for being a "disgrace" to the local.

Underwood then told the membership that every member who "betrayed" the union would be taken care of appropriately at the appropriate time.

Several near fist fights also marked the stormy meeting.

A motion was presented and carried to continue the strike until the union's demands were granted. The union leader, however, cautioned members to live up to their working contracts with independent contractors and continue to work. Some members felt that all should stop work but Underwood said "our fight is against the contractors' association only."

Harry R. Halloran, head of the Conduit & Foundation Corp., and chief negotiator for the three contractors' groups which hold contracts with the locals, declared that rain spoiled what had promised to be a heavy turnout of rebellious union members.

51 Registered Nurses Decide To Organize

A group of 51 registered nurses of Lower Bucks County interested in forming an association gathered in the Community Building, Dorchester street, last evening. Mrs. Arthur Rago, Bristol, presided.

It was decided to hold a meeting every third Monday of each month at the above location. The following nominating committee was appointed: Mrs. Arthur Rago, Bristol; Mrs. William White, Hulmeville; Mrs. Warren Bruce, Emille; Mrs. Bernard Hansbury, Croyston; Mrs. Albert Settle, Trevoise. A hospitality chairman, Mrs. Julia Bergfeld, Bristol, was appointed.

Election of officers will take place at the next meeting, July 21st.

All registered nurses of Lower Bucks County are invited to attend.

GLORY PRICE

VIENNA, (INS) — Dr. Margarete Ottlinger, former high official in the Austrian Ministry for Property Control, reportedly is washing laundry for the Red army in a Soviet labor camp. Mrs. Ottlinger's kidnaping in 1948 was especially smarting as she was snatched out of the Property Minister's car by Russian sentries and later sentenced for alleged "espionage" against the Soviets.

America to industrialization, broadened our horizons to the ends of the earth, fostered the labor movement and set it up in business, invented the proposition that it is the responsibility of government, as representatives of the people, to shelter and feed the helpless.

Not now, nor never hereafter, will Republicans of this nation be wise to trust those who turn their backs on all the long, weary rungs of the ladder in the past, the hard-won accomplishments of which the Republican Party has reason to be proud, and who boldly say, "That all belongs to the dinosaurs and the dodos—trust us, give us the power, and we will grind you out miracles by the minute!"

Consider the flow and sweep of events. Twenty years ago the New Deal rose to command of this nation, in a swift, bloodless revolution that seemed, at the moment, a heaven-sent answer to Depression and Despair. Four years the magic lasted, and in 1936 the New Dealers drove back the Republicans to two small toe-holds—Maine and Vermont.

But then the tide turned, and for fourteen years, since Pennsylvania and Ohio swung back Republican in 1938, the trend of public thinking has been away from radicalism and in the direction of Republican doctrines.

Wherever, in those fourteen years, there has been a bold and challenging public figure who spoke courageously this doctrine, almost without exception he has won.

Where, on the contrary, the Republicans have bent the head and bowed the knee, and meekly surrendered to philosophies which their own party creed dictated they should have fought—there, in national and state elections, is where you find the Republican set-backs and defeats.

Eight years ago Governor Dewey said "It's time for a change", and today this is really and tangibly true—the whole American people are begging for a party and a leader to present a reply and antidote to the blunders and waste and petty tyranny of the New Deal.

All these considerations focus upon one single candidate as the logical, the inescapable, choice of the Republican Party.

He is Senator Taft—Fighting Bob Taft. By every yardstick he qualifies. Brilliant and able by natural gifts, he has been given the priceless advantage of years on the firing line, much of it in the face of a hostile majority, working on the detailed, complex sensitive problems of our national government.

When he speaks of national problems, he speaks with the full authority of successful experience. When he says that he will balance the national budget, he says it as the leader of the 80th Congress which, for the only time in twenty years, actually did balance the budget. When he says he will cut taxes thus and so much, he says it as the man who, again in the 80th Congress, led the fight for tax reductions and then made them stick by out-debating President Truman over the subject of his veto. When he says he can and will deal fairly with labor, and at the same time protect all the other interests of farmers and consumers and investors, he says it as co-author of the present labor law, a statute which, regardless of the abuse showered upon it, is basically so sound that its severest critic, President Truman, has been forced repeatedly and reluctantly to fall back upon it.

Taft is a Republican to the core. His ancestors helped write the record of the past just as he has helped write the record of the present and future. As to his position on national affairs, his position is the Republican position, for his position is the sum and composite of the innumerable roll-calls in Congress in the past decade during which he was the outstanding Republican leader there.

Bob Taft is the sort of man conventions were invented to nominate.

Rumple Family Gets Keys To House

tion which is closing the loans in the name of the bank.

Incidentally, the J. Halperin &

Co., mortgage specialists, Jamaica, N. Y., in 1951 broke the nation-wide record for home mortgage loans originated, processed and closed during a single year. The firm is exclusive mortgage broker for Levitt & Sons and has done business for Levitt for 19 years.

After a forty-minute period of signing papers and taking title, "Kay" excitedly came out of the Halperin office waving the keys to 29 Stonybrook Drive. Eager to use those keys, the Rumples drove out to Levittown, where they had their picture taken about to cross the threshold.

They were no sooner inside their new home than "Red" became busy answering calls at the door. First, a baker stopped to leave a sample loaf of bread; then followed more bread, eggs, butter, milk, buttermilk, newspapers. The Rumples received enough food to stock their refrigerator for several days; one of their neighbors was given 18 quarts of milk!

While "Red" answered the door, "Kay" was busy inside listening to the agent describe the use of the heating system. Because the weather was chilly, the agent turned on the heat which made the house comfortable.

After lunch back in their former apartment, Riverview and Edgely avenues, Edgely, where they have lived for the past several years, "Red" and "Kay" began moving their belongings to No. 29. They had already sold much of the larger furniture in order to buy new furnishings for the home. Clothing, small items, and filled boxes constituted most of their belongings to move.

A Trenton firm was expected to deliver draperies last evening. When they arrived, the Rumples planned to light a fire in their fireplace with the cardboard from the boxes they had used in moving. At that point "Kay" and "Red" were officially "at home" at 29 Stonybrook Drive, Levittown.

The Courier extends best wishes to the Rumples and to all other new residents in Levittown.

as these will do much to guide the Bucks County Planning Commission in determining the proper local requirements for intelligent planning."

Recently, the Pennsylvania State Planning Board approved an additional $25,000 to provide such technical assistance in local planning and zoning through the Bucks County Planning Commission. While the exact mechanics and procedures have not yet been determined, it is expected that these communities will share in this allocation.

The Morrisville commission, working with Russell VanNest Black, planning consultant, is well along with its plans and revised zoning ordinance.

Sometime this year they will have submitted their thoughts to residents at public hearings and then turn over recommendations to Council for final action, Bailey concluded.

Plumstead Township Teacher Retires; Is Tendered Banquet

CARVERSVILLE, June 24—Retiring after teaching for 39 years in Plumstead township, Mrs. Harry Foster was honored at a testimonial banquet Thursday evening.

The affair took place at Valley Arms Restaurant, near Danboro, and was arranged by members of the faculty of Plumstead township schools and the directors of the schools of the district.

Prior to teaching here, Mrs. Foster taught two years in Charleston township, Chester county.

Secretary of the School Board George G. Gayman presented a gold watch to Mrs. Foster, on behalf of the directors and the teachers. She also was presented with a lovely vase.

Among the invited guests was Albert C. Rutter, of Perkaskie, former county superintendent of schools, under whom Mrs. Foster served for many years. Mr. Rutter was unable to attend. There were 29 present.

Mrs. Foster has been teaching first and second grades at Rocky Ridge school since the one-room schools divided into classes by using school buses. Prior to that time she taught all eight grades at Prospect Corner.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. Ralph E. Prond, Jr.
Pastor
Bristol Methodist Church

Paul onetime said, "We are more than conquerors through him that loved us."

We were the ones Paul was thinking of when he spoke of being more than conquerors. He was speaking of the Christ in referring to him who loved us.

The conqueror and the Christ go hand in hand.

Paul was not speaking from an ivory tower but from in the midst of a life which finally saw him put to death by the ax and in the hour of his death he said, "For I am now ready to be offered up, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought the good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. Henceforth I am laid up for me a crown of righteousness."

Victorious living comes only to he who has the victors spirit and who marches in the ranks of a conquering Leader. You can't conquer without commitment just as you can't grasp a flower or a coin unless you are willing to open your hand.

Others have tried and found that Paul was right when he said that we were more than conquerors through Christ. This was not only true in the days of the early martyrs but it was true in Nazi Germany, in present day Russia, in China at this moment where people follow Christ fighting the good fight of faith because He makes them "more than conquerors."

This can be true in modern America. Of course you have to open your hand and try it in order to find out.

Wright, Mrs. Horace Tranter, Mrs. Richard Little, Mrs. Alva Smoyer, Bristol; Mrs. Richard Gleason, Mrs. J. Dickson, Newportville; Mrs. Harrison Street, and Mrs. George Wright, Tullytown. Refreshments were served. Dale received gifts.

Mrs. J. Markley Streeter, Ash avenue, Landreth Manor and Mrs. William Myers and daughter Patricia, Newport Terrace, sailed on the M. V. "Georgie" from New York, N. Y., on May 28th, for a vacation in Ireland. They are visiting relatives and friends and will return home in October on the same ship.

The past week was enjoyed by

Mrs. Anthony Paone, 217 Otter street, as guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Paone, Trenton, N. J., and the week-end at Ortleigh Beach, N. J.

pard, of Burlington, N. J., a consultant, who explained elementary school equipment.

The Sheppard School Service official explained to the directors how under her supervision and by using her equipment one school room may be divided into different areas. Doing away with the conventional type seat and desk, the classroom is divided into one area where there is a library, another has a piano and another has the play section where the children have blocks and educational handicraft.

Several hours were taken up to explain the method of furnishing and setting up a school room, but

CAUTI STILL LEADS SOFTBALL BATTERS WITH MARK OF .475

"Vic" Cauti, of Fifth Ward Sport-Club, is still leading the regular batters of the Bristol Softball League. Cauti boosted his mark to .475 from .454 during the past two weeks and has collected 19 hits out of 40 trips to the plate.

Joe Pica, also of the Warders, has climbed into second place with a .404 average, four points more than Dezy DeLise, of Franklin.

Softball fans are amazed at the hitting of Steve Clotti, of Auto Boys, who recently returned to the United States after serving with the U. S. Army in Germany. Clotti has hit safely 11 times in 19 trips up.

Stanley "Butch" Koreyva, Fifth Ward, has eight wins without a loss to lead the hurlers of the league. Tony Capella, Franklin, has a five and one mark.

LOCAL SERVICE IS DENIED BUSES OF LARRISSEY LINE

Request is Dismissed "For Lack of Necessity," It is Stated

DECISION BY P. U. C.

Since Making Application, Line Was Taken Over By Delaware River Coach Co.

By International News Service
PHILADELPHIA, June 24—Mrs. Anne M. Larrisey, Bristol widow and operator of the Larrisey bus line, was refused her application today to run local service in addition to her interstate operations.

The Public Utility Commission in Harrisburg notified Abraham Nathanson for the Neibauer Bus Co., which had protested the application, that Mrs. Larrisey's request had been dismissed "for lack of necessity."

Mrs. Larrisey, who lives with her five children at 1107 Radcliffe street, sought approval to operate a bus line over a route beginning at the Pennsylvania side of the Burlington-Bristol Bridge, running to the Pennsylvania end of the lower bridge in Morrisville, through Bristol and Tullytown.

During several days of hearings, Mrs. Larrisey's attorneys presented scores of witnesses who testified that additional local pickup service was necessary. Residents of Tullytown and the Maple Beach areas were predominant.

However, Nathanson in many heated exchanges with the local residents during the hearings, maintained that Neibauer service was ample to meet their demands, a contention which was upheld in the Commission's ruling.

The Commission order was signed by B. F. Morgal, acting chairman. Text of the order—

"This matter being before the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission upon the application of Anne M. Larrisey, dated Dec. 21, 1950, to operate motor vehicles as a common carrier and upon protest, and having been duly heard and submitted by the parties, and full investigation of the matter and findings involving having been heard, the Commission finds and determines—

THE PURPOSE OF THE CONVENTION

With only a matter of days remaining until the Republican convention starts balloting on the party's nominee for President, it is not time to sit back for a moment and review the reasons why this convention is being held?

Dictatorships and despotisms don't need political conventions.

They are a special function of the Republican form of government—"Democracy in action," as we like to say. They are the means by which popular sovereignty expresses itself. "The will of the people is the law of the land," and the conventions help spell it out in words of one syllable. Self-government as we know it—and we know the one form which has demonstrated itself practical and durable—would disappear without the two party system of politics of which the national convention has come to be an essential feature.

Anyone who brushes the whole subject aside with a disdainful air and intimates that politics is distasteful to him is very short-sighted indeed. It is no real credit to General Eisenhower that from time to time he has spoken almost contemptuously of certain problems as being merely political, and referred them to subordinates for answer.

Politics is the most important single function to be discovered in the length and breadth of any free, self-governing republic, and no citizen has a right to be disdainful about it. Certainly no man aspiring to high public office under the American Constitution should say anything to belittle the processes by which the people select their administrators and review their policies, nor treat these matters as being separate and inferior responsibilities which can be properly entrusted to subordinates.

Quite the contrary, Politics, says the dictionary, "is the art and science of government." It is the lifeblood of popular sovereignty and freedom.

Everyone knows, of course, that the purpose of a convention is to select the party's candidate. But the selection goes far deeper.

It is not merely a matter of finding the man who would be most popular. All demagogues are popular, at least temporarily. All dictators of the recent period passed through the stage of immense popularity.

Nor is popularity at the time of the nomination any assurance of party success in November. The late Jimmy Walker, once the playboy mayor of New York City, once wrote a song entitled "Will You Love Me In December As You Say You Do In May." In politics the question of whether the voters will love some transient favorite in the November elections as they appear to love him during the June or July preliminaries, is one of those heart-breaking matters out of which much political tragedy has been written.

Nor is it merely a matter of finding the ablest chief executive. Technical skill with public matters is urgently important, but it is not everything. There have been, for instance, some exceedingly efficient dictators, who led their subjects to slavery and their countries to ruin. Besides, the nominee must get elected before he can take office.

It is not, however, just a question of finding a campaigner. America has seen some able, convincing campaigners, from Aaron Burr down through William Jennings Bryan and Huey Long, to whom it would have been a catastrophe to entrust the government.

What is needed is a combination of the various factors of campaigning ability, administrative ability and factual knowledge about both politics and government.

But there is still another broad side of the question, and that is the philosophy, objectives and points of view of the available candidates.

Do these coincide with the concepts of the political party which is asked to nominate them? Are they in line with the trend of public thinking of the American people?

In the case of the Republican convention, this calls for a critical analysis along lines which are not always seen alike. Nevertheless, milestones and yardsticks are available. The Republican Party was founded out of the demoralization produced by slavery, was dedicated to the preservation of the union and the proposition of all men being equal before the law, and has been more successful than any other political party in all the history of the world in developing and encouraging a system of economics which has enriched and expanded the American nation beyond all the dreams of man's imagination.

Let no man discount the past and the traditions of the Republican Party. When the last "I" is dotted on the pages of history, the record the party wrote from 1860 to the Mid-Twenties will shine out as the most miraculously successful political chronicle ever told. The Republican Party set free the slaves, opened up

Mrs. Franco-Ferriera Makes Report to Newtown Group On National Convention

PICNIC SESSION

NEWTOWN, June 24—Mrs. Franco-Ferriera, Buckingham, secretary of New Hope-Solebury League of Women Voters, and a delegate to the national convention of the Leagues of Women Voters recently held in Cincinnati, O., was guest speaker at the meeting of Newtown league, Tuesday. This was a picnic luncheon meeting held at Silver Lake farm, home of Mrs. James Frank.

Mrs. Franco-Ferriera said the League has grown nationally since 1950; there are now 824 leagues in the United States. Since the leagues are growing so rapidly in number, serious consideration should be given to the revision of the present by-laws of the National League. Thirty-five new leagues were formed in April, 1952, an increase of 14% in membership.

She mentioned that the voters' service has made sensational strides and properly so, since this is the core of all league work. At the business meeting presided over by Mrs. Robert Biddle, 3d, president, Newtown League, went on record as approving fluoridation of Newtown water supply.

Mrs. Robert Titlow gave a report on the public health meeting held in Doylestown, which she and Mrs. Robert Hoffman attended. The first fall meeting will be September 15th, when Mrs. Robert Biddle will entertain at a tea at her home, Fieldstone Farm.

REMOVED TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Charlotte Ball, 915 Washington avenue, Crofton, was removed to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, yesterday morning in an ambulance of Bucks County Rescue Squad.

The State Police Say:

Are you taking any long night-driving trips this summer? If you are you'd better slow down and perk up after dark. The dusk-to-dawn hours have one-third of the traffic, TWO-THIRDS of the fatal accidents. And driver-asleep accidents are especially likely to be fatal. Don't tempt death by driving after you begin to get groggy.

PLANNING CORRELATION OF VITAL IMPORTANCE

DISCUSS PROBLEMS

MORRISVILLE, June 24—The importance of correlation of planning for Morrisville and Yardley boroughs, and Lower Makefield township is being stressed. The Yardley Planning Commission, led by F. W. Lantz, and the Lower Makefield Survey Committee on Government Affairs, with Claude L. Johnson as chairman, held a recent session. At that meeting in Pennsbury High school, the group discussed mutual problems, and explored possibility of a joint planning group. Robert J. Bailey is chairman of the Morrisville Planning Commission.

It is expected that additional meetings will take place in the near future, when members of Yardley and Morrisville Common Councils and the Lower Makefield board of supervisors also will attend.

"Careful analysis of such mutual problems as zoning along common borders, road and traffic development are a few of the studies and spheres of thinking to be explored by the groups," Bailey said. "Recommendations by local groups such

Frank Indelicato was held in $2,000 bail, last evening, as the result of an alleged stabbing affair which took place Saturday afternoon, June 7th. Indelicato is accused of stabbing his divorced wife, Mrs. Ion Tresco, 35, and her present husband in their apartment at 329 Lincoln avenue.

The hearing was held before Justice of Peace Anthony Niccol, with John L. Kilcoyne, Esq., representing Indelicato.

Mrs. Tresco and her husband related details of the affair and Tresco exhibited a long scar across his ribs which he said was made by Indelicato with a knife. Mrs. Tresco said she was stabbed in the abdomen and was hospitalized for a week.

The argument preceding the stabbing, according to the testimony, grew out of an argument over support for the two children of Indelicato now living with their mother and step-father.

SOIL LABORATORY IS INCLUDED IN A TRIP

Field Day Much Enjoyed By Bucks County Natural Science Ass'n

VISIT MICHENER HOME

NEWTOWN, June 24—June twenty-first will long be remembered by the 27 people who took part in the field day planned by Bucks Co. Natural Science Association and led by Stevenson W. Fletcher, Jr.

The first stop was made at the laboratory of Edwin Harrington, Carversville, who for some five years has been analyzing specimens of soil sent him from many far away sections as well as from gardens and farmlands in Bucks.

At present he is working on soils from Hawaii and Alaska. Aided by his assistant, Miss Marie Becker, he demonstrated for the group some of the processes through which a soil specimen must go—laboratory temperature, accurate timing, very slow oven drying along with much complicated apparatus are parts of the picture. Senders of soil should be careful as to the depth from which the sample is sent. Eight inches is set for flower garden specimen. Mr. Harrington said if he were able to give but a very few warnings these would be headed by "do not lime again for five years."

Weather Conditions Make The Use of Some of The Machinery Impossible

POLICE PATROL AREA

Will Recall Other Workers If Engineers Resume Their Work

FAIRLESS HILLS, June 24—Thirty operating engineers arrived at the building project here this morning, before the pickets did, and commenced work. Due to the wet condition of the ground and the fact that work assignments are not yet organized, all thirty of the engineers were not actively engaged.

James D. Morrissey, Philadelphia contractor, stated that some of the men did not want to work, as long as such action was opposed by the union. Fifteen to twenty operators did not come to work this morning.

An official of the Danherst Corporation stated that if the grading pans and bulldozers that were working this morning would continue to work, then many of the 1,000 laborers, carpenters, plumbers and electricians that have been out of work as a result of the strike, will soon be re-hired.

Retired School Teacher Killed Under Own Car

MT. HOLLY, June 24—Instantly crushed to death under her overturned car, Mrs. Ethel R. Ayars, 66, retired school teacher of Fairton, was the victim of a two-car crash yesterday afternoon. The crash occurred at Pine street and Route 38. The victim's car collided with an auto operated by Mrs. Elsie O'Rourke, 38.

Two passengers in Mrs. Ayars' vehicle were removed to Burlington County Hospital. Mrs. Carrie S. Schmitzer, 60, principal of Fairton elementary school, suffered a fractured pelvic bone and cuts. Her condition was fair.

Miss Minnie Bradley, 40, a teacher at Bridgeton junior high school, was treated for shock and possible internal injuries, fractured ribs and lacerations. Hospital authorities listed her condition as serious.

ASK ZONING BOARD TO RECLASSIFY AREA

Petition To Set Up Golf Driving Range in Lower Makefield Twp.

GIVE UP PROJECT

The operators of a dairy farm at Suthpin road, near the Yardley-Morrisville road, in Lower Makefield township, William and John Perestam, appeared before the township's Board of Adjustment in the Community House at Woodside, last evening, to ask that their 80-acre farm be re-classified from first class residential to a business district.

They told the board members—Harry S. Hoffman, Sr., Russell F. Carter and Augustus S. Leedom—they planned to set up a golf-driving range, a miniature golf course, tennis courts and other amusements if their application was approved.

More than 100 neighbors attended the hearing. They had not organized formally to block the Perestam brothers' project but virtually all objected to it vigorously.

Their principal objections were the proposed amusement center would serve as an "entering wedge" for other business enterprises in the farm community; that it would create a traffic hazard, and would attract an "unwelcome element" to the area.

The brothers, obviously surprised by the overwhelming opposition, voluntarily withdrew their application for the zoning change.

LEVITTOWN, N. Y., MAN TAKES TITLE TO FIRST HOUSE

Walter Alloy Receives Keys For Bucks Co. Levittown Dwelling

20 TITLES ON MONDAY

20 More To Receive Title Today; Movings Expected To Start at Once

Seek Post Office Site for Levittown

Lawrence Mulligan, acting postmaster of the Bristol Post-office, announced today that the postal department is desirous of finding 5,600 sq. ft. of space for a proposed Levittown Branch of the Bristol Post Office.

Mulligan stated that the location must be convenient to serve the Levittown area. He said that further information, along with bid forms, could be obtained at the Bristol Postoffice or from W. A. Miner, Post Office Inspector, Philadelphia 1.

LEVITTOWN, June 24—The first of the 20 to take title to Levittown houses was a man from Levittown, N. Y., whose only change in address in the future will be the street and state.

The first receiving title yesterday was Walter Alloy, who with his wife and family are soon to move here.

An additional 20 will take title today, it is announced.

Like their early American ancestors who blazed a covered-wagon trail across the continent, a group of 20th century families will "pioneer" a new community when they become the first to move into Bucks County's new development, Levittown, today and tomorrow.

William H. Levitt & Sons, Inc., scheduled the first sixty families at intervals on the 23rd, 24th and 25th, to sign title papers, assume the balance of the mortgage, and accept keys to their new homes.

The Carmen Malinaro and Vincent Philiphone families, now of River rd., Tullytown, were scheduled for 2:00 and 2:45 p. m., yesterday. Both men are Levitt construction workers and had made their homes at Levittown, L. I., for the past four years. Malinaro and his wife, Margaret, have a boy, three. Malinaro is a veteran of the Marine Corps, having seen service on Guadalcanal. Vincent Philiphone, 32, a veteran of the C. B. I. theater, and his wife, Palma, have a four-year-old daughter. Both families moved in on Monday.

At 9:30 this morning, John Seltzer, 29 N. Pennsylvania avenue, Morrisville, accepted title, and with his wife and son, John, Jr., aged 3, will probably move in next week. Seltzer is a draftsman.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Schramm, 19 Lincoln avenue, Hulmeville, with Richard, their six-year-old son, will probably move in about the 25th. Schramm is an employee of U. S. Steel.

Bernard F. Kogel, 39, his wife, Joann Ellen, and two daughters, Joann, seven and Bernadette, three, have lived in this area for the past four years, most recently on Park avenue, Edgington. Kogel, a veterinarian, is moving to Doylestown. Continued on Page Five

FASTEST VESSEL AFOAT

During World War II it was customary to load a division of troops aboard the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth and send them off on their own. Those British grey hounds were so fast no naval escort could match their sustained speed for any length of time. No submarines the Germans or Japanese could send out ever got close enough for a torpedo shot at them. There was nothing remotely like them on this side of the water.

The new superliner "United States" was built at a cost of $70,000,000 to put this country back in the running. Running is hardly the word for it. In trial runs she attained speeds over a period of several hours that were "considerably" in excess of 34 knots, or 39.1 miles an hour. This exceeds the known speed of any merchant or large naval craft.

Tonnage-wise the "United States" is not over half the size of the monumental "Queens" but she is the same length. No wood was used in her construction and everything is fireproof down to the table napkins. Passengers making the maiden voyage to England July 3 will find a type of luxury formerly found only on foreign flag vessels.

EASING OF HOME CREDIT

Modification of Regulation X, governing down payments on new home purchases, was foreshadowed last month with suspension of restrictions on consumer installment credit. Official explanations lacking, both actions may only be construed as reflecting the Federal Reserve Board's conviction that inflationary pressures present no immediate danger.

Easing of down payments follows a falling off in demand for new homes in some parts of the country. Shortage of mortgage money is given as one cause, but it is also a fact that since demands for relaxation of down payments began to be stepped up some months ago, many prospective buyers have been holding back on commitments in anticipation of a favorable change.

What effect the revision will have in stimulating purchasing, if that was the purpose, is problematical. The stimulation may be expected to be greatest in housing costing from $5,000 to $9,000. Within that range down-payment reductions are largest.

On a $7,000 home, for instance, the minimum down payment is cut from $700 to $350 for nonveterans, with no down payment for veterans as against $280 under the old regulations. But on $10,000 and $12,000 houses the reduction in minimum down payment is only $50.

It is because of the continued high minimum down payments required on higher priced homes that lumber dealers and home builders, through their national associations, profess disappointment. They say the new regulations will have no "helpful effect" on the housing market.

sulphate" and "do not think humus alone will get needed results."
Mr. Harrington recommended annual rye grass for new homes where soil is poor. He thought cotton seed meal excellent for the heath family. He thinks the Merion Cricket Club Blue Grass strain is outstanding but still very expensive. He showed the white powder called Krillium, which is now extensively advertised as a soil conditioner. As yet he has not tried it, but means to do so. He advised the more wide use of vermiculture and felt the many weed killers should be very carefully handled.

His laboratory library was full of bulletins, which covered botanical courses for many regions. Vines and plants of interest adorned the workshop, making the place a thing of beauty as well as an experimental station.

The group next journeyed to Tinticum township, where Mr. Fletcher had arranged with James A. Michener to have a stop at his 30-acre estate, where he has some 3,000 young trees growing, most of them planted since he was the owner of the property. He has set out many Colorado blue spruce but generally he has kept to native trees of that section. To the dogwoods and red cedars, which were growing there at purchase time, he has added hemlocks, firs, spruces, pines and hollies. He has made trails through the various plantings, which the nature lovers found most easy to travel. The site was extremely high and the view most extensive.

There was no time to discuss Mr. Michener's books on the South Pacific and his recent visit made to the Orient—for this day the love of trees was uppermost.

After box lunch eaten at this Tinticum retreat, the motorcade continued on Dark Hollow road to the River road. For many, this was the first trip over this Dark Hollow section and the beauty of it could well compare with the better known Cutaossa. Finally the third stopping place was reached—again in the Carversville area—the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. M. Gantz, called "Pepperbush Farm." There a remarkable private museum was visited. Shells, butterflies, birds' eggs, minerals and fossils—hundreds of them were labelled in fine display cases. Mrs. Gantz said over some years she had collected about half of the shells in Florida and in Maine. Some relations had secured for her shells from all parts of the world. The bird egg collection she had bought from Spread Eagle Tavern. It was most beautifully arranged.

Mrs. Gantz's very special interest was in fossils. She has set up most interesting cases, which exhibit specimens covering carboniferous, mesozoic, cenozoic eras, etc. The very dawn of civilization was portedly operating engineers at the U. S. Steel plant who work on the night shift, milled around the road. Last night in Phila. the International Union of Operating Engineers (AFL) voted to continue their strike until the contractors' association "agreed to and signed" the union's demands.

Earlier, leaders of the back-to-work movement said the inclement weather yesterday had delayed any decisive test of the proposal.

The first half-hour of the packed meeting, conducted by Roy J. Underwood, president and business manager of the IUOE locals—542, 542-A and 542-B—was taken up by leaders and delegates of many waterfront unions affiliated with the Maritime Trade Department, representing 35,000 members, pledging 100 percent support to the Operating Engineers' strike.

One man later introduced as a member who obtained his union card in 1951, voiced objection to Underwood's leadership. He was offered the use of the microphone but was unable to be heard over the loud shouting and booing. He finally asked to be given safe escort from the hall, closely watched by detectives and uniformed police.

A motion then was carried to bring him before the executive committee of the union, which in turn would ask him to surrender his card for being a "disgrace" to the local.

Underwood then told the membership that every member who "betrayed" the union would be taken care of appropriately at the appropriate time.

Several near fist fights also marked the stormy meeting.

A motion was presented and carried to continue the strike until the union's demands were granted. The union leader, however, cautioned members to live up to their working contracts with independent contractors and continue to work. Some members felt that all should stop work but Underwood said "our fight is against the contractors' association only."

Harry R. Halloran, head of the Conduit & Foundation Corp., and chief negotiator for the three contractors' groups which hold contracts with the locals, declared that rain spoiled what had promised to be a heavy turnout of rebellious union members.

51 Registered Nurses Decide To Organize

A group of 51 registered nurses of Lower Bucks County interested in forming an association gathered in the Community Building, Dorance street, last evening. Mrs. Arthur Rago, Bristol, presided.

It was decided to hold a meeting every third Monday of each month at the above location.

The following nominating committee was appointed: Mrs. Arthur Rago, Bristol; Mrs. William White, Hulmeville; Mrs. Warren Bruce, Emille; Mrs. Bernard Hansbury, Croyston; Mrs. Albert Settle, Trevoise. A hospitality chairman, Mrs. Julia Bergfeld, Bristol, was appointed.

Election of officers will take place at the next meeting, July 21st.

All registered nurses of Lower Bucks County are invited to attend.

VIENNA, (INS) — Dr. Margarete Ottlinger, former high official in the Austrian Ministry for Property Control, reportedly is washing

America to industrialization, broadened our horizons to the ends of the earth, fostered the labor movement and set it up in business, invented the proposition that it is the responsibility of government, as representatives of the people, to shelter and feed the helpless.

Not now, nor never hereafter, will Republicans of this nation be wise to trust those who turn their backs on all the long, weary rungs of the ladder in the past, the hard-won accomplishments of which the Republican Party has reason to be proud, and who boldly say, "That all belongs to the dinosaurs and the dodos—trust us, give us the power, and we will grind you out miracles by the minute!"

Consider the flow and sweep of events. Twenty years ago the New Deal rose to command of this nation, in a swift, secret, bloodless revolution that seemed, at the moment, a heaven-sent answer to Depression and Despair. Four years the magic lasted, and in 1936 the New Dealers drove back the Republicans to two small toe-holds—Maine and Vermont.

But then the tide turned, and for fourteen years, since Pennsylvania and Ohio swung back Republican in 1938, the trend of public thinking has been away from radicalism and in the direction of Republican doctrines.

Wherever, in those fourteen years, there has been a bold and challenging public figure who spoke courageously this doctrine, almost without exception he has won.

Where, on the contrary, the Republicans have bent the head and bowed the knee, and meekly surrendered to philosophies which their own party creed dictated they should have fought—there, in national and state elections, is where you find the Republican set-backs and defeats.

Eight years ago Governor Dewey said "It's time for a change", and today this is really and tangibly true—the whole American people are begging for a party and a leader to present a reply and antidote to the blunders and waste and petty tyranny of the New Deal.

All these considerations focus upon one single candidate as the logical, the inescapable, choice of the Republican Party.

He is Senator Taft—Fighting Bob Taft. By every yardstick he qualifies. Brilliant and able by natural gifts, he has been given the priceless advantage of years on the firing line, much of it in the face of a hostile majority, working on the detailed, complex sensitive problems of our national government.

When he speaks of national problems, he speaks with the full authority of successful experience. When he says that he will balance the national budget, he says it as the leader of the 80th Congress which, for the only time in twenty years, actually did balance the budget. When he says he will cut taxes thus and so much, he says it as the man who, again in the 80th Congress, led the fight for tax reductions and then made them stick by out-debating President Truman over the subject of his veto. When he says he can and will deal fairly with labor, and at the same time protect all the other interests of farmers and consumers and investors, he says it as co-author of the present labor law, a statute which, regardless of the abuse showered upon it, is basically so sound that its severest critic, President Truman, has been forced repeatedly and reluctantly to fall back upon it.

Taft is a Republican to the core. His ancestors helped write the record of the past just as he has helped write the record of the present and future. As to his position on national affairs, his position is the Republican position, for his position is the sum and composite of the innumerable roll-calls in Congress in the past decade during which he was the outstanding Republican leader there.

Bob Taft is the sort of man conventions were invented to nominate.

tion which is closing the loans in the name of the bank.

Incidentally, the J. Halperin &

Co., mortgage specialists, Jamaica, N. Y., in 1951 broke the nation-wide record for home mortgage loans originated, processed and closed during a single year. The firm is exclusive mortgage broker for Levitt & Sons and has done business for Levitt for 19 years.

After a forty-minute period of signing papers and taking title, "Kay" excitedly came out of the Halperin office waving the keys to 29 Stonybrook Drive. Eager to use those keys, the Rumples drove out to Levittown, where they had their picture taken about to cross the threshold.

They were no sooner inside their new home than "Red" became busy answering calls at the door. First, a baker stopped to leave a sample loaf of bread; then followed more bread, eggs, butter, milk, buttermilk, newspapers. The Rumples received enough food to stock their refrigerator for several days; one of their neighbors was given 18 quarts of milk!

While "Red" answered the door, "Kay" was busy inside listening to the agent describe the use of the heating system. Because the weather was chilly, the agent turned on the heat which made the house comfortable.

After lunch back in their former apartment, Riverview and Edgely avenues, Edgely, where they have lived for the past several years, "Red" and "Kay" began moving their belongings to No. 29. They had already sold much of the larger furniture in order to buy new furnishings for the home. Clothing, small items, and filled boxes constituted most of their belongings to move.

A Trenton firm was expected to deliver draperies last evening. When they arrived, the Rumples planned to light a fire in their fireplace with the cardboard from the boxes they had used in moving. At that point "Kay" and "Red" were officially "at home" at 29 Stonybrook Drive, Levittown.

The Courier extends best wishes to the Rumples and to all other new residents in Levittown.

Plumstead Township Teacher Retires; Is Tendered Banquet

CARVERSVILLE, June 24—Retiring after teaching for 39 years in Plumstead township, Mrs. Harry Foster was honored at a testimonial banquet Thursday evening.

The affair took place at Valley Arms Restaurant, near Danboro, and was arranged by members of the faculty of Plumstead township schools and the directors of the schools of the district.

Prior to teaching here, Mrs. Foster taught two years in Charleston township, Chester county.

Secretary of the School Board George G. Gayman presented a gold watch to Mrs. Foster, on behalf of the directors and the teachers. She also presented with a lovely message.

Among the invited guests was Herbert C. Rutter, former county superintendent of schools, under whom Mrs. Foster served for many years. Mr. Rutter was unable to attend. There were 29 present.

Mrs. Foster has been teaching first and second grades at Rocky Ridge school since the one-room schools divided into classes by using school buses. Prior to that time she taught all eight grades at Prospect Corner.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. Ralph E. Proulx, Jr.
Pastor
Bristol Methodist Church

Paul onetime said, "We are more than conquerors through him that loved us."

We were the ones Paul was thinking of when he spoke of being more than conquerors. He was speaking of the Christ in referring to him who loved us. The conqueror and the Christ go hand in hand.

Paul was not speaking from an ivory tower but from in the midst of a life which finally saw him put to death by the ax and in the hour of his death he said, "For I am now ready to be offered up, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought the good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. Henceforth is laid up for me a crown of righteousness. . . ."

Victorious living comes only to he who has the victors spirit and who marches in the ranks of a conquering Leader. You can't conquer without commitment just as you can't grasp a flower or a coin unless you are willing to open your hand.

Others have tried and found that Paul was right when he said that we were more than conquerors through Christ. This was not only true in the days of the early martyrs but it was true in Nazi Germany, in present day Russia, in China at this moment where people follow Christ fighting the good fight of faith because He makes them "more than conquerors".

This can be true in modern America. Of course you have to open your hand and try it in order to find out.

Wright, Mrs. Horace Tranter, Mrs. Richard Little, Mrs. Alva Smoyer, Bristol; Mrs. Richard Gleason, Mrs. J. Dickson, Newportville; Mrs. Harrison Street, and Mrs. George Wright, Tullytown. Refreshments were served. Dale received gifts.

Mrs. J. Markley Stroeper, Ash avenue, Landreth Manor and Mrs. William Myers and daughter Patricia, Newport Terrace, sailed on the M. V. "Georgie" from New York, N. Y., on May 28th, for a vacation in Ireland. They are visiting relatives and friends and will return home in October on the same ship.

The past week was enjoyed by

Mrs. Anthony Paone, 217 Otter street, as guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Paone, Trenton, N. J., and the week-end at Otterly Beach, N. J.

The Sheppard School Service official explained to the directors how under her supervision and by using her equipment one school room may be divided into different areas. Doing away with the conventional type seat and desk, the classroom is divided into one area where there is a library, another has a piano and another has the play section where the children have blocks and educational handicraft.

Several hours were taken up to explain the method of furnishing and setting up a school room, but

CAUTI STILL LEADS SOFTBALL BATTERS WITH MARK OF .475

"Vic" Cauti, of Fifth Ward Sporting Club, is still leading the regular batters of the Bristol Softball League. Cauti boosted his mark to .475 from .454 during the past two weeks and has collected 19 hits out of 40 trips to the plate.

Joe Pica, also of the Warders, has climbed into second place with a .404 average, four points more than Pezzy DeLise, of Franklin.

Softball fans are amazed at the hitting of Steve Clotti, of Auto Boys, who recently returned to the United States after serving with the U. S. Army in Germany. Clotti has hit safely 11 times in 19 times up.

Stanley "Butch" Koreyva, Fifth Ward, has eight wins without a loss to lead the hurlers of the league. Tony Capella, Franklin, has a five and one mark.
